It's About How You LIVE

It's About How You LIVE is a national community engagement campaign encouraging individuals to make informed decisions about end-of-life care and services. The campaign encourages people to:

- Learn about options for end-of-life services and care
- Implement plans to ensure wishes are honored
- Voice decisions to family, friends and health care providers
- Engage in personal or community efforts to improve end-of-life care

Note: The following is not a substitute for legal advice. While Caring Connections updates the following information and form to keep them up-to-date, changes in the underlying law can affect how the form will operate in the event you lose the ability to make decisions for yourself. If you have any questions about how the form will help ensure your wishes are carried out, or if your wishes do not seem to fit with the form, you may wish to talk to your health care provider or an attorney with experience in drafting advance directives.

Using these Materials

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

1. Check to be sure that you have the materials for each state in which you may receive health care.
2. These materials include:
 - Instructions for preparing your advance directive, please read all the instructions.
 - Your state-specific advance directive forms, which are the pages with the gray instruction bar on the left side.

ACTION STEPS

1. You may want to photocopy or print a second set of these forms before you start so you will have a clean copy if you need to start over.
2. When you begin to fill out the forms, refer to the gray instruction bars — they will guide you through the process.
3. Talk with your family, friends, and physicians about your advance directive. Be sure the person you appoint to make decisions on your behalf understands your wishes.
4. Once the form is completed and signed, photocopy the form and give it to the person you have appointed to make decisions on your behalf, your family, friends, health care providers, and/or faith leaders so that the form is available in the event of an emergency.
5. You may also want to save a copy of your form in Google Health, or another online medical records management service that allows you to share your medical documents with your physicians, family, and others who you want to take an active role in your advance care planning. You can read more about Google Health at <http://www.caringinfo.org/googlehealth>.

Introduction to Your Wyoming Advance Health Care Directive

This packet contains a legal document, the Wyoming Advance Health Care Directive, that protects your right to refuse medical treatment you do not want, or to request treatment you do want, in the event you lose the ability to make decisions yourself. You must complete Part 1, Part 2, or both, depending on your advance-planning needs in order to have a valid advance health care directive. Part 3 and Part 4 are optional. You must complete Part 5.

Part 1, the Wyoming Power of Attorney for Health Care, lets you name someone, called your “agent,” to make decisions about your health care—including decisions about life support—if you can no longer speak for yourself, or immediately if you specify this in your document. The Power of Attorney for Health Care is especially useful because it appoints someone to speak for you any time you lack the capacity to make your own health care decisions, not only at the end of life.

Unless you make it effective immediately, your Power of Attorney for Health Care becomes effective when your doctor determines that you lack the capacity to make health care decisions.

Part 2, the Wyoming Instructions for Health Care, functions as your state’s living will. It lets you state your wishes about health care in the event that you lack the capacity to make your own health care decisions.

Your Instructions for Health Care become effective when your doctor determines that you lack the capacity to make health care decisions.

Part 3, Donation of Organs at Death, is an optional section that authorizes the donation of your organs at death.

Part 4, Primary Physician, is an optional section that allows you to designate your primary physician.

Part 5, the execution provision, contains the signature and witnessing provisions to make your advance health care directive valid.

This form does not expressly address mental illness. If you would like to make advance care plans regarding mental illness, you should talk to your physician and an attorney about an advance directive tailored to your needs.

Note: These documents will be legally binding only if the person completing them is a competent adult (at least 18 years old) or an emancipated minor.

Instructions for your Wyoming Advance Health Care Directive

How do I make my advance health care directive legal?

You must sign and date your advance directive or direct someone to do so for you if you are unable to sign it yourself. Your signature must be witnessed by a notary public or by two witnesses. If witnessed, your witnesses may not be

- your treating health care provider or an employee of the provider;
- your agent, if you appoint one;
- the operator of a community care facility or employee of the operator or facility; or
- the operator of a residential care facility or employee of the operator or facility.

Whom should I appoint as my agent?

Your agent is the person you appoint to make decisions about your health care if you become unable to make those decisions yourself. Your agent may be a family member or a close friend whom you trust to make serious decisions. The person you name as your agent should clearly understand your wishes and be willing to accept the responsibility of making health care decisions for you.

You can appoint a second person as your alternate agent. The alternate will step in if the first person you name as an agent is unable, unwilling, or unavailable to act for you.

Your agent cannot be an owner, operator, or employee of a residential or community care facility at which you are receiving care, unless that person is related to you.

Should I add personal instructions to my advance directive?

One of the strongest reasons for naming an agent is to have someone who can respond flexibly as your health care situation changes and deal with situations that you did not foresee. If you add instructions to this document it may help your agent carry out your wishes, but be careful that you do not unintentionally restrict your agent's power to act in your best interest. In any event, be sure to talk with your agent about your future medical care and describe what you consider to be an acceptable "quality of life."

What if I change my mind?

So long as you have capacity to make your own decisions, you may revoke all or part of your advance health care directive, other than the designation of an agent in Part I, at any time and in any manner that communicates an intention to revoke. Any oral revocation should, as soon as possible after the revocation, be documented in a signed and dated writing.

You may revoke the designation of your agent (in Part I) only by a signed writing.

A decree of annulment, divorce, dissolution of marriage, or legal separation revokes a the designation of your spouse as agent unless you otherwise specified in your advance health care directive.

An advance health care directive that conflicts with an earlier directive revokes the earlier directive to the extent of the conflict.

You Have Filled Out Your Health Care Directive, Now What?

1. Your Wyoming Advance Health Care Directive is an important legal document. Keep the original signed document in a secure but accessible place. Do not put the original document in a safe deposit box or any other security box that would keep others from having access to it.
2. Give photocopies of the signed original to your agent and alternate agent, doctor(s), family, close friends, clergy, and anyone else who might become involved in your healthcare. If you enter a nursing home or hospital, have photocopies of your document placed in your medical records.
3. Be sure to talk to your agent(s), doctor(s), clergy, family, and friends about your wishes concerning medical treatment. Discuss your wishes with them often, particularly if your medical condition changes.
4. You may also want to save a copy of your form in Google Health, or another online medical records management service that allows you to share your medical documents with your physicians, family, and others who you want to take an active role in your advance care planning. You can read more about Google Health at <http://www.caringinfo.org/googlehealth>.
5. If you want to make changes to your documents after they have been signed and witnessed, you must complete a new document.
6. Remember, you can always revoke your Wyoming document.
7. Be aware that your Wyoming document will not be effective in the event of a medical emergency. Ambulance and hospital emergency department personnel are required to provide cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) unless they are given a separate directive that states otherwise. These directives called "prehospital medical care directives" or "do not resuscitate orders" are designed for people whose poor health gives them little chance of benefiting from CPR. These directives instruct ambulance and hospital emergency personnel not to attempt CPR if your heart or breathing should stop.

Currently not all states have laws authorizing these orders. We suggest you speak to your physician if you are interested in obtaining one. Caring Connections does not distribute these forms.
